Offerings and Sales at the Richmond Tobacco Exchange-Internal Revenue

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—There was a slim attendance at the Stock Exchange to-day, the international yacht race having led to an aimost general exodus of operators. The handful of traders who remained were in the main bullishy inclined. They paid particular attention to the Specialties, however, and the standard issues, as a rule, were quiet. Tennessee Coal and from not only led in point of activity, but in advance as well, the stock having sold up from 4th, to 44544449. The principal buyers of the stock were brokers, supposed to be acting for some of the new directors. The old rumer about a closer alliance with the Westinghouse was again spring by the buil pool in General Electric, and the stock was advanced to 40%. Sugar first declined 4g to 112%, then advanced to 113%, and receded and closed at 112%. Eric Telephone rose 16, to 62 and Colorado Fuel 1½ to 406336. The railway list proper opened a little bregular on lower London questations, but local operators guissequently turned up as buyers, and prices generally improved 467% per cent. Speculation closed quiet and firm at or near the top of the day. Net changes show gains of 3, to 15, per cent. Tennessee Coal and iron and United States Cordage leading. Honds were firm; the sales footed up $1,120,000. The sales of listed stocks aggregated 7,000 shares.

A NORTH CAROLINA FARMER RE-TURNS FROM MORMONDOM.

Poligamy Still Practiced in the Mormon Kingdom-A New Democratic Paper. Pushing the Cotton Mills.

GREENSBORO, N. C., Sept. 7.—Special. Beginning with September 21st, Greensboro will have a new afternoon daily, ed ted by W. J. Underwood and A. J. Williams. It will be called the Greensboro Times, and will be straight-out Democratic.

Work is progressing on the new cotton mills being built here by the Cone Export and Commission Co. A force of hands is kept at work night and day making brick for these buildings, which will be very large.

George Patillo, a negro boy, while playing near the cotton mills yesterday got his arm caught in a brick machine, and was so baily hurt that amputation was necessary.

TURNED MORMAN.

TUNNED MORMAN.

Mr. D. F. Ware, a Rockingham farmer, who left his home, near Reidsville, in January, 1891, with some Mormon elders, has repented and come back to the old North State a sadder but wiser man. Here is what he says of the Mormons, in a reply to a letter sent him here:

Dear Sir,—Yours asking me to answer some questions in regard to Mormonism received, and if my compilance with your request should enlighten any of our people who might be led astray as I was, sle who might be led astray as I was, shall think I am well rewarded for so doing.

1. They came to my house in January, 1894, and introduced themselves. I heard them talk and read their pamphiets, became acquainted with their doctrine (as they represented it), and was with them a good deal.

2. They treated me bery well, and promised me greater things than I ever expected to obtain here if I would join them and go to the Mormon kingdom, which I did. I sold everything and bought

3. I learned after getting there that the priest and president could have all the wives they wanted (as officers of the church). I visited the father of Layton (who is here now); he had two wives. I also visited a man named Barnes, who had five wives. But their representatives denied this before I went there.

4. They claimed that one-tenth of what I had belonged to the church, the balance was to be deposited with the priest; telling me I could make an honest deposit, live, and enjoy the Mormon faith; but if I failed to do so, as Ananias did, I would go as he did; that is, I should hold nothing back, under the same penalty that Ananias suffered. The round trip cost me 1861, which means my all, as I am without a home, with a large family, as you know, and also knew my circumstances before I left here.

We have known Mr. D. F. Ware for a number of years, and believe him to

The old colored woman, Jane Carter, is still living out in the street on West Market street. She has all of her plunder, cooks, eats, and sleeps there in any kind of weather. It will be remembered she was turned out of the house where she had been living for many years, and has thus far taken up her abode in the street. She is very old, and the authorities should take some action in the case, as she has been living in the street now for three weeks, and her abode there and the presence of a great heap of chattels in the street have become a nuisance to the residents of this section. Beside, it is not humane to allow an old woman to live in such a way, with no shelter but the open sky, in all kinds of weather.—Charlottesville Chronicle.

The numerous barns, mills, and dwellings burned then and the indignation aroused will never be effaced from the memories of those who witnessed that barbarous period.—Shenandoah Valley.

CARPET SALE!

Planned on the Spur of the Moment? Oh, No!

But a sale that's the result of months of planning-months of buyingthat's been growing since it was conceived in early springtime, maturing under the careful buying of the watchful Carpet buyers 'til now it bursts forth with cherry ripeness with bargains ready to be plucked. Months of downright careful watching of manufacturers' Carpet bargains is bound to bring its reward of success. It has. There are more good Carpets at lower prices here than there's ever been before. To-morrow morning we throw our doors open to the town.

All day to-morrow will be reception day in the Carpet corner, and the women folks who come for the Carpet knowledge that goes with seeing are invited—are welcomed. Looking is bound to develop buyers. If not to-day, the next day, or week—some time. So the lookers are urged to come—not urged to buy.

Early comers to sale will have the chance at Yard-Wide Carpet, all-wool filling, positively warranted fast colors, cost 29c. a yard. We say this, for the lot is small and we believe will be quickly bought.

The 25c. Carpet is usually so mean and so trashy that it is hardly worth being called a Carpet, but we stake our reputation that you will have no cause to blame us for laying so much stress on the 11 whole pieces of Carpet-yard-wide, good, strong union wool, pattern of which will do credit to 50c. goods. These are to be 25c. a yard.
